The largest news and product advertising network MGID Inc. has officially launched its first iPhone application which will bring the readers even closer to MGID's service.

Having over 17 million of unique visitors monthly MGID is one of the biggest content aggregators on the web. With the new MGID iPhone application, readers now can browse all of the breaking news and viral content available online.

From politics and economics to celebrity gossip, top rated videos and news-articles are updated daily. News is easy to share with friends through social networking or by email.

"I am thrilled that bukowiecki.net got this great opportunity to work with MGID. I am looking forward to the community feedback regarding the app as well to new projects ahead of us." - said Patryk Bukowiecki - the MGID app producer.

"We are glad to provide our readers with a free MGID iPhone app, and we will continue serving the digital community as best as we can." – commented Robert Bardunias, Executive Vice President.

MGID's iPhone app features:

- Latest and most popular MGID news
- Possibility of adding posts to favorites
- Sharing posts via Facebook, Twitter, Mail
- Comfortable navigation
- Stable and high performance
